

Paolo Mauro, Director, Economic and Market Research

Paolo Mauro is Director, Economic and Market Research Department, International Finance Corporation, since October 2023. Previously, he worked at the International Monetary Fund for thirty years, most recently as Deputy Director, Fiscal Affairs Department. In 2014-16 he was Senior Fellow at the Peterson Institute for International Economics and Visiting Professor at Johns Hopkins University Carey Business School. His journal articles are highly cited, and he has coauthored three books. He holds a Ph.D. in economics from Harvard University.