

Henrique Vasconcellos

is responsible for Sustainable Finance at Banco do Brasil. Its role in the organization is to guide the application of resources to support clients and stakeholders in the transition to a low-carbon and inclusive economy, applying social and environmental risks. Moreover, encourages and supports the development of innovative models for raising funds, nature-based solutions and biodiversity, climate change and carbon credits.

 At Banco do Brasil for 26 years, in the last 10 years has worked in strategic departments at the Bank's headquarters like Investor Relations, the Directory of Micro and Small Companies, the Directory of Loans and Financing, and the Directory of Funding and Investments. He has experience in relationship management with large customers, international and strategic partners, and bank management in retail branches.

 Graduated in Law from the Pontifical Catholic University of Campinas – SP; Postgraduate in Business Administration and Banking from the Mackenzie Presbyterian Institute – SP; Postgraduate in Innovation and Digital Business at PUC – RJ; Specialization in Leadership and Sustainable Business Management by ISE and IESE Business School – University of Navarra – Spain; Specialization in Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning by MIT – Boston, United States; Specialization in Financing Quality Urban Infrastructure – Tokyo Development Learning Center, Japan.

 ESG Achievements – Lead the development and publication of BB's Sustainable Finance Framework and Sustainable Linked Finance Framework; Responsible for taxonomy and guidelines for BB's ESG Credit Portfolio.